WEATHER HOLDS KEY TO FRUIT SITUATION HERE

Present Temperature to Minimize Loss Due to Lack of Cars

Believe That Tunnel Is to Be Cleared Soon on Santa Fe

Malaga grapes will not be improved if the present weather continues for the next two weeks even though the shortage of cars and inability to ship keeps them on the vines, according to the belief of the large shippers of green fruit expressed here yesterday.

"But," he added, "who can tell about the weather?"

General belief that the tunnel on the Santa Fe line due to the fire in a tunnel near Caliente would not seriously interfere with shipments of fruit as cars would be routed over other lines was expressed here yesterday by some shippers.

It is believed that it will be possible to get the tunnel cleared within a few weeks and that meanwhile fruit from Fresno will be shipped over other lines. The most serious difficulty appears to be in obtaining sufficient cars in this respect.

It is believed that shippers invariably ask for more cars than they expect to use, counting on better weather and therefore having about sufficient to carry their fruit to the east. Should the present condition continue for some time, it is believed that there will be a serious loss sustained by vineyardists who have grapes which they are unable to ship.

The advice of shippers appears to be to dry grapes which are not marketed in this manner. They point out that growers will obtain better prices no doubt for their product, and that the uncertainty of delivery at the time will be avoided.

What percentage of grapes now being shipped are wine grapes? This seems to be a question which it is impossible to handle. Shippers state that a great quantity of wine grapes are now being shipped and that they are causing a shortage of cars on the table grapes. But as to how many are being shipped, they will not even hazard a guess. Inquiries reveal that there is apparently no check on the number being shipped and that it would be impossible to ascertain how many cars of "grapes" formerly used for "wine making" are being sent to eastern points at present.

Prices are continuing fair in auction markets but not as strong as formerly due to the decline of the season. It is believed. Associated buyers were quoted on the 7th at $2.50 in the New York market while Modesto, Lug Zinfandels brought $2.50 in the same market. Reports of sales received here yesterday showed:

Sixty-eight packing houses were in operation for the week which ended yesterday, according to the report of the inspectors which reached the office of Horticultural inspector Fred P. Houlard yesterday. The principal variety of grapes being packed at present is Malaga while other varieties being handled are Tokay, Thompsons and Muscats.

It is believed, according to the report, that 50 per cent of the grapes now being shipped are for manufacturing uses.

Fowler Owners Sue For Water Service

Through its council, the town of Fowler has been sued for $1,000 damages and other damages for its refusal to supply water to the Fowler owners.

The action is an outcome of proceedings to annex the Fowler water works, which were the municipal water works, had been erected.

The annexation was invalidated in a suit brought by J. A. Hickey, a plaintiff, although they were prevailed upon to destroy their domestic water service for the promised connection with the town service and that because of the result of the annexation the council is about to cut off water and sewer connections.

The injunction is sought to prevent the council from consummating this threatened action.

Conference Held on Musical Club Plans

Yesterday morning at Hotel Prentiss, L. E. Belcher of Los Angeles and Miss Belle Hickey held a conference in regard to the Fresno Musical Club, discussing the various attractions which will be brought to town during the coming season. As a consequence of the meeting, Miss Hickey is calling a meeting of the board of directors of the club for next Wednesday morning, at her home, 1017 F street, at which time the full course of concert will probably be decided upon. They will be given at once in the public. The fall season will be held about the first of October.

While in New York City this summer, Miss Hickey, the president of the club, was interviewed by a representative of the Musical Center, who expressed surprise that Fresno should be able to support such a club as the Fresno Musical Club which brings to this city such well known and desirable attractions.

SCOUTS TO ADD SEVERAL TROOPS

Energetic Membership Campaign Planned for Winter

Formation of additional scout troops along racial and color lines comprises one of the chief features of the vigorous membership campaign planned for the winter by the Fresno Council, Boy Scouts of America. It was announced yesterday following the first fall meeting of the organization executive committee at the Commercial club.

It is planned to form troops composed of negro, Russian, Chinese and American boys, supplementing the present force of American and Japanese lads. There are now ten scout troops in the city with a total membership of 300 boys.

Scout Executive Henry L. Hopkins, who has just returned from an extensive automobile tour in which he visited the scout organizations of various cities, recommended a change in the mode of promoting scouts, whereby the candidates will have successfully passed their examinations prior to their appearance before the court of honor and will receive their advance in a formal but impressive ceremony.

The principal subject under discussion by the executive committee was the mapping out of plans for a winter of great activity. Another meeting will be held two weeks hence, Thursday, September 23. The officials attending the session were: President A. B. Williams, C. R. Jackson, G. A. Hatfield, F. C. Mortland, Ben Esplan, George P. Sharp and Scoutmaster Hopkins.

Troops Nos. 1, 2, 3, 5, and 7 will meet this evening at their respective headquarters.

REVIVE MEXICO BULL FIGHT AT DISTRICT FAIR

California of Old To Be Brought Back for Five Days

Biggest and Best That Was Ever Seen, View of Director

Like a little bit of Mexico of today or the California that was years ago in the days of the untamed West, the rodeo which is to be an attraction at the Fresno District Fair promises to live up to the prophecies of its director, F. J. Griffin—and make good the slogan "best in the West."

Directed by their long-march, but untamed because they are untamable, a herd of 25 bulls plodded toward Fresno yesterday to be kept here until the rodeo opens on September 11, styled "Days of the Old West."

From the wilds of Mexico, come of them from Mexico City, come three of the best breeders that California has ever seen. This is the statement of Director Griffin who is to stage the daily feature.

An especially constructed paddock is being built at the fair grounds where the rodeos will take place. The rodeos will be a reproduction of the "Days of the Old West."

The program for the rodeo is now complete and the premium lists with prizes aggregating $4,000 have been arranged to cover the contests which will be a part of the rodeo. The premium list covers 10 events in which the customary contests are included with today's.

The rodeo will be arranged and in addition $2,000 in prizes has been offered for running races, including a ladies' relay race, Roman races, a novelty one-mile race, flag and flag races which are to be programmed daily.

First on the premium list for the rodeo is the lassoing contest for which a prize of $1,000 has been offered.

The lassoing contest will be held by the judges during the first four days of the rodeo. The contestants and they will compete in the finals for the prize which aggregates $300, divided into first, $200; second, $100; and third, $50.

OPPOSE BATHING GIRLS' PARADE

W.C.T.U. Takes Action to Stop Promenade at County Fair

At the county executive board meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held Wednesday at the Y. W. C. A., vigorous protest was made regarding the proposed "bathing girls" promenade at the county fair and a committee was appointed to write the board of managers of the fair, the Chamber of Commerce, the ministerial union and other influential bodies to withdraw the exhibition so degrading to women everywhere.

It is emphasized that the beach is the place for bathing suits and not a county fair ground, and that if allowed will increase the already too prevalent immorality of women and girl's dress of today, besides being insulting to the moral intelligence of the people of Fresno.

Reports of the unions represented showed much good work and plans were made for perfect work in country places especially for social meetings at which information on the Harris bill on law enforcement will be given. Literature on this subject may be obtained free of charge from the state headquarters at 314 E. Hall Avenue, San Francisco and also by those desiring any quantity who are not members of the W. C. T. U. but would like to be fully informed on this subject before election.

PERSHING'S MAP ON EXHIBITION

Shows Relative Standing of Armies at Time of Armistice

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—One of the most interesting exhibits of the thousands in the world war collection now being gathered at the National Museum is the "Order of Battle" map used by General Pershing in directing the movements of the American forces in France. The wall map, 810 feet in size, together with the walls, floor and furniture of the room in which it hangs at American headquarters at Chantilly, was transferred to the museum by the war department at the request of the general.

The map was brought to Washington and installed in the museum by the general and three enlisted men of the headquarters staff who kept it corrected and guarded it throughout the war. At Chantilly the map, when not in use, was concealed by a sliding section of wall which is installed in the same manner in the museum.

The map shows in a vivid fashion the exact situation at the hour the armistice was signed with reference to the strength and location of all divisions, both enemy and Allied, on the western front, the correct battle lines, the names and location of commanding officers and the locations of headquarters and army boundaries.

There also is a considerable amount of detailed information regarding the American divisions, as, for instance, the percentages of fresh and tired troops and the length of time the various units had been in the line or in reserve.

The war collection has already assumed such proportions as to make necessary some new arrangements for housing it. Many of the exhibits are now crowded into the ground floor of the new National Museum building, while others are in the old building, and a few of the exhibits are in the open air awaiting the construction of suitable shelter. William D. C. Havel, the director of the museum, says congress probably will be asked at the next session to provide a building for the collection, which is of great historical value.

The airplane exhibit includes all types of American and French planes used extensively in combat, pursuit and bombing work abroad, and several specimens of captured enemy machines. There are also an exhibition many types of airplane motors. In addition to the world war aviation section, the museum contains the original Langley and Wright models. The collection of American army medical equipment furnished by the war department is practically complete and includes the various types of operating and X-ray equipment used in base hospitals and field and advanced base stations, a large variety of surgical instruments, ambulances and military dental equipment.

One entire section of the collection is devoted to exhibits showing the inception and development of the gas mask. Other exhibits include the great 60-inch searchlights used in the field, the field artillery, machine guns and rifles, of the uniforms, field equipment and medals of general officers, subordinate officers and privates of all the Allied countries and Germany and Austria. There also is a collection of articles manufactured by the enemy by the Germans. These include paper twine, water cloth, feed bags, artillery packs, water buckets, blankets, etc.

TABOO IMMORAL WOMEN, ANATOLIA

Governor Orders Heads of All "Wild Women" Shaved

KERRASSOUNDE, Anatolia, Turkey, Sept. 9.—The new governor of Kerrassounde, is probably the most feared man on the north coast of Anatolia.

When the nationalists selected Osman Agha to impress Greeks, Armenians, Jews and Turks alike into Muslima Kemal's army, they took into their camp a man who would have been a terrible menace in opposition to the and who is merciless in executing the orders of the Ankara government.

Osman Agha has been for years the self-constituted boss of Kerrassounde, the local situation. Until recently he was only mayor of the town, but he had no provincial governor could give the old bandit chief orders. In fact he always managed to neutralize all provincial officials. He transferred all the military, police and judicial powers to himself. He was only mayor of the town, but he had no provincial governor could give the old bandit chief orders. In fact he always managed to neutralize all provincial officials. He transferred all the military, police and judicial powers to himself.

Immunal women became too conspicuous in Kerrassounde. Consequently the heads of all such women be shaved. Many of the women left the town. Those who remained disappeared from time and many of their bodies were washed up by the sea.

Osman Agha embodied all the traits of the Turkish officials. Consequently he ordered that the heads of all such women be shaved. Many of the women left the town. Those who remained disappeared from time and many of their bodies were washed up by the sea.

The Greeks of Pontus are loyally protected against Turkish oppression, but they dare not show their loyalty at the Turkish officials' headquarters. Many of the Turkish officials responsible for massacres and deportations have been punished there. There will be no more and security for the Christians in Pontus.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 9.—Mrs. J. L. Peague of Fort Worth, Texas, was among the persons injured late yesterday when a tourist car turned over at the Narrows on the Pike's Peak automobile highway. Her chest was crushed.

Many other exhibits are being received daily from the army and navy and the director hopes to make the collection the most complete world war museum in existence.

Good Battles

What should be one of the best boxing cards in the country, the Legion boxing association will be offered Tuesday night at the Auditorium.

The main event perhaps the best that has ever been offered in this city, boxing together two of the highest rated lightweights on the Pacific Coast, Willie Hunnefeld and Chief Neff. Hunnefeld has a record of 10 wins, 10 losses and 10 draws. Neff has a record of 10 wins, 10 losses and 10 draws. They are both considered to be among the best lightweights in the world.

Other bouts on the card include a heavyweight fight between a local champion and a visiting champion, a middleweight fight between two local champions, and a welterweight fight between two local champions.

Chief Neff is another boy that must be given credit as being among the top fighters in the world. His record shows that he has defeated all comers at his weight. He has always been anxious to meet Hunnefeld but until now has never been able to get the match. A few nights ago Neff fought Tommy O'Donnell and won a good round decision. Neff has a good record and is considered to be one of the best welterweights in the world.

FRESNO COUNTY SECURES GRAND PRIZE STATE FAIR

Among 27 Competitors Chamber Carries Off Award Collecting and Display Is Work of P. M. Rasmussen

The Fresno County Chamber of Commerce, comprising producers of every description gathered from all sections of Fresno county and assembled and arranged by P. M. Rasmussen, exhibit director of the chamber, took the grand prize, carrying a cash bonus of $400, at the Sacramento state fair yesterday.

This announcement was received here at the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce late yesterday afternoon. The winning of the first prize award, the greatest honor to be won at the state fair, comes as the climax to three years of competition in which Rasmussen has managed the exhibit of the local chamber. For the last two years he has finished second for the special award, and set out this year with the determination to bring the special prize to the county.

Starting the monumental task of collecting early, he roved the county from one end to the other, gathering the best obtainable in the manifold products for which Fresno county is noted. These products, if they were perishable, were placed in cold storage and carefully preserved for the event, while vast collections of non-perishable products were also collected and arranged for the fair.

Large was the collection this year, and the chamber's exhibit was the most complete ever shown at the fair.

The victory of the Fresno County Chamber at the Sacramento state fair is considered all the more notable because of the great number of counties competing against Fresno.

Twenty-seven counties entered the competition and the result was that when the judges met to decide the winner, he was not expected to be from the state of California.

He will return to Sacramento today, and Secretary L. E. Patterson, exhibit director, is due to leave tonight to visit the fair on the closing day.

The judging is based on the exhibit all-round showing, made by any exhibit and is based on the number of lines, ribbons, medals, and other honors won by the exhibitor.

Other features also considered including the pack of the fruit display, quality and many other features of the exhibit.

Rank of fruit was included in the exhibit as assembled by Rasmussen, including many choice specimens of rare varieties of produce grown in Fresno county.

The main exhibit, a large foot space, the exhibit is placed in the Republica a few days ago, while the remainder of the exhibit was housed on the second floor of the building in a special exhibit.

TRAFFIC BOARD PLANS MEETING

Rail Situation Will Be Considered Here Monday

The effect of the recent increase in freight rates will probably be one of the topics for discussion at the meeting of the board of directors of the Traffic Association of Fresno at the regular monthly meeting which is scheduled for next Monday night at the Commercial Club.

Secretary-Manager Frank M. Hill said yesterday that while it was too early yet to forecast the effect which the rate would have in freight and passenger travel, it was probable that the increase would make a diminution in passenger travel.

The conditions of shipping due to the tie-up on the Santa Fe will also be considered at the meeting. Hill said yesterday that he had been informed that the tunnel was still burning, fire having broken out at a fresh after it was thought that it had been extinguished.

From two to three weeks would be necessary to repair the tunnel, he stated, demonstrating again the need for a double track system over the Tehachas, a move which was to be made by the government when it took over the lines, but which was never accomplished.

Local Salvage Shop Regarded as Model

The Fresno Salvage shop is taken as an example all over the country, having been one of the most successful, and many others having been patterned after this. Mrs. W. H. Jones has been the very efficient manager with Mrs. Allen Cullen, the assistant.
